HOW TO GET TO MAFIA ISLAND (TANZANIA)

DECEMBER 1, 2015 BY GIULIA RACITI

The day I found out that in Tanzania there is a place called Mafia I decided to go there, no matter what I would find.

Only later I discovered that this little gem, still unknown, is a marine park known to scuba divers and that in recent years is beginning to be renowned in the world for the seabed with the coral reefs, swimming with whale sharks (from October to April) and the fantastic snorkeling all year round (except for April and May which is low season and many lodges close).

Nobody here knows what Mafia is but they were all able to explain the origin of such a name which comes from Maf (water in) Fia (within the island), a wild island where tourism is rising and you can breathe a little marine life of an African village, and also where it is not difficult to make friends.

Less known than the more famous Zanzibar, Mafia is a little hard to reach, and if you do not choose the hard way then it can get rather expensive.

The solutions to reach Mafia from Dar Es Salaam are 2:

- With a boat (of hope) passing through Nyamisati where you will need to spend the night
- Flying (about $ 120 one way per person)

If the flight is something simple, Flights from Dar Es Salam to Mafia Island, things get complicated when you choose the economical but definitely not convenient solution (that is the one I chose myself, of course).

Really hard to find information on how to get there , but if I did then anyone can.

In the very early morning you have to get the Minibus (dalladalla) from the Tatu station, departure is scheduled for 6am, but don't be surprised if it starts two hours later, to Nyamisati
